[Qualifying]

#15 Ayumu Iwasa: 2nd place 1' 05.364

TEAM MUGEN communicated well enough before the qualifying session started. I wanted to take time to warm up the tires then asked Iwasa to go first, and I could put a priority on warming up.

Due to excellent communication, I could finish warm-up run without any issues and try time attack. To me it was a pity that Iwasa won the pole position in the previous race. I could win the pole position this time, Sugo somehow. I could feel a good response from this qualifying.

Since I can start the race from the pole position spot, I will try to collaborate hard closely with TEAM MUGEN and Iwasa for one-two win. Support us, please.

I requested for warming up in my own pace in the qualifying, but in Q2 though Nojiri-san was assigned to go first, he gave me a sign in which I go in front and then I overtook him and ran considering distance to the car going behind.

It is regrettable that I could not win the pole position. I noticed that we could compete for it judging from our potential and that of our machines prepared by the team.

Though I did everything I could, the result was 2nd place with 0.1 second gap. My starting position is not bad tomorrow. I will prepare the car with the team members and do our best in the race.

We will grab one-two finish and since I ended up 2nd place in the previous race despite winning the pole position, I will push hard to revenge it this time. Please keep on supporting us.

The qualifying result today was so supreme for us, TEAM MUGEN! Thank all the sponsors, companies supporting us, and fans so much!

Team with two cars worked quite functionally from the morning free session. I am relieved that Nojiri won the first pole position in this season. We as a team are glad that following the previous race, Auto Polis round, Iwasa showed an incredibly superior performance in this round, Sugo which is also the very first track for Iwasa.

We will do our best to show our best performance in the race. Thank you for your support in advance.

The race regrettably ended up with a red flag.

Owing to the help of the team support, I could win the pole position and finished the race in the 1st place.

I would like to prepare the car through the official test at Fuji on July 7th and 8th to get ready for the latter half of the season and win the race at the Fuji round in the next month despite our rivals are quite competitive.

TEAM MUGEN has occupied 1st and 2nd places of the drivers' standings. Please look forward to future battle of TEAM MUGEN. Thank you so much.

Unfortunately, the race was stopped but thank fans so much for your support at Sugo circuit till the end of the race.

I would like to adjust the car to get a proper performance through the official Fuji test with the team members and win the race at the Fuji round in next month. Please come back to the circuit and cheer us up.

We faced a difficulty in today's race due to an unstable weather condition. But first of all, we are relieved that drivers having crashed are safe. The fans could have enjoyed whole race fully today, but due to the difficult weather they could not make it. I feel sorry for all the fans but at the same time want them to tolerantly accept it.

Though points we gained thanks to one-two finish is half, considering long lasting season we as a team could gain very precious points. We will try our best to show a superior performance at next round, Fuji. Please keep on supporting us.
