Thank you for all your support. The 7th round has just finished. Regrettably, the result was 9th place.

I tried to get as front position as possible. I suffered a lot through the whole 41 laps. But I am sure that this suffering will surely bring about advantages to me. I will keep on fighting for the championship in the final round for about a month from now. Please cheer us up at the next final round.

Super Formula Championship Round 7 has just ended.

We basically spent most of the race catching up with other cars. The pace in the race was good. Though we had no choice but to take a pit stop while the safety car appeared on the track, mechanics showed their best performance and then we could catch up with other rivals.

Honestly speaking, I was not satisfied with the race, but since we found out that we had potential and we still have a chance to win the race, we will not give up but aim for the championship at the final round.

Please continue to support us.

It was a very harsh race. The good point was that #16 Nojiri won 2nd place in qualifying and #15 Iwasa won 7th place (6th place in the end) in spite of his 12th grid position. But these results were totally far away from our goal. I feel sorry for the fans who always support us.

Two races in Suzuka are left till the end of the season. We surely will target at the championship. We will devote ourselves to preparation for the final round. Please keep on supporting us.
